

APPLICATION FOR LEWIS TRAVEL AWARD
NEXT DEADLINE: September 2016 (tbd)

Name:

Date:

Lab:

Current Position (including graduate program if applicable):

Years in Current Lab:

Research Topics (1-3 Sentences):

Information About the Meeting You Will Attend

Name of Meeting:

Dates:

Location:

Sponsor (Society, University, Etc):

Your Level of Participation (Attendee, Poster Presenter, Speaker, etc):

Estimated Cost:

- Travel
- Hotel
- Registration
- Other (please specify)

Other Sources of Financial Support (Specify If Certain or Pending):

List all other meetings you have attended in your current training position

Year and Name of Meeting:

Please send an email with the following components, organized as a single pdf file, in the following order to Andrew Ewald (aewald2@jhmi.edu).

1. This cover sheet.
2. Abstract describing the project, in the format you will submit in your application to the meeting.
3. NIH style biosketch for the trainee (max four pages).
4. Advisor's letter describing this conference and its role in your training and career development. This does not need to be as detailed as a full letter of recommendation and is typically 1-3 paragraphs. This letter will be used in the competitive selection of candidates for the award, as typically only 25-50% of applications are funded.

If funds are allocated to a student who is not ultimately accepted to that meeting (e.g. a Gordon Research Conference), the funds will be reallocated to another student. The advisor should comment on the likelihood of a student being accepted to the meeting if it is on a competitive basis.

